DETAILED ACTION

Claims 9-13, 20, 30, 32, and 34-39 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 9-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Initially and since the claim 9 first step particles have a primary particle size of less than 100 nm and a secondary agglomerate diameter of not less than 0.2 microns (0.2 microns = 200 nm) simultaneously, it is unclear how also, in claim 10, the “the cuprous oxide ultrafine particles have an average secondary particle diameter of less than 200 nm in the dispersion of cuprous oxide ultrafine particles which is in the colloidal state.” Since both “less than 100 nm”, “not less than 0.2 microns”, and “less than 200 nm” are all colloidal, the reference in claim 10 lacks proper antecedent basis in claim 9.

Claims 11-13 are dependent on cancelled claim 8. It is unclear what is applicants' intent.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 1796

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claims 9-13, 20, 30, 32 and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Curtis et al., Angewandte Chemie, International Edition in English, 27, (1988), pp. 1530-33.

Curtis et al discloses making copper dispersions as claimed but lacks or differs in the explicit ratio of the hydrazine to copper acetate as claimed. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skilled in the art at the time of applicants' invention to vary the ratio of the reactants since modifying the process conditions such as concentration is not a patentable modification absent a showing of criticality for a result-effective variable, i.e., a variable which achieves a recognized result. Clearly the reducing agent, hydrazine is a result effective variable.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 35-39 are allowable over the prior art since the prior art does not disclose or fairly suggest said combined method limitations.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments filed 09 March 2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

8. Applicants (page 10) assert Curtis et al is not electrically conductive since it uses PVP, which is asserted to be an insulator. This has not been deemed persuasive because the claims do not require electrical conductivity.

9. Furthermore, applicants' assertions regarding PVP as an insulator are speculative since the available free electrons on the PVP structure.

Conclusion

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
